VIERE a number of people are concerned in the fame bullocfs, let it be the appointment of effects or any thing of a publick nature, it is not to reflects of an unity of a protect state, it was be-be expected that the management of it can be in every supert agreeables every one. When even a few per-tura meet on matters of but trilling confequence, you folders find their fentiments fights in perfect uniting. Thefe Little differences we must lay our account with fo hart, if upon the whole, the latiness is conducted in facility manner rate be useful and generally statisfactory, it will that an be expected. Had each fingle confirme here introduction make a like of for his difficility is pro-bable that no one would have been precifely the fame a th the prefent. For my own part, I can fay that rethips in one or more than one inflance, I froud not have been diffared of fadificrent non-retination had taken price; but could l, or any other expect that every other a smiter frould entirely fubinit his opinion to me or to him:—No, gentlemen, mutual deterence was need-lare. We had confidence in each other, and were fatisfied that one great object was kept fleadily in view; the ticker with has been fo unmimously produced has frengly maded that object. There is not in it a difputed character, with regard to federalifus.

Tribuit me now and I shall do it briefly to make a few observations upon the importances of that duty which we are called upon to discharge the day after tu-morrow.

CITIZENS OF PENNSYLVANIA.

CITIEST OF FINSHIVAMIA,

You never had a more important party to all! I need not mention that our professive, I may go ferther, and don that perhaps not revilence, as a nation, dependently the custom of the antique desired the custom of the and other desired not be of Representatives in Congress.

The conditioning a projection of Representatives in Congress. The conditioning a projection of addressed with peculiar propriary.

to you. The first election to this great office, held by ! the people, will be by the cirizens of Pennsylvania; their conductivill have an influence through every part of the United States. If this is the case, and that such is the case, there can be no doubt, of what consequence it is that each discharge his dray on that all-important day !—Pains have been taken (and I hope not unsuccessfully) to collect the femilments of the friends of the new Conflication in this State, and to friction of the new Confutution in this State, and to bring them to a point; let us not now divide, for in division is certain deffunction. Gentlemen, I would willingly suppose there could be no fource of division on that fubject, among the cir-siens of this State; but I am oblighed pand forty I am to be obliged to mention that, there is cause to appre-hend a devere of it.

hend a degree of it.
We know that enfortunately for this State, the fentiments of all its inhabitants have not been unanimous with regard to the federal Confliction itself; we know, for the period is see recent to be forgotten, From Jor the period is so, recent to be forgotten, that a number of citizens, but far from a majority, have expressed themselves unfacturable with regard to it; we know that some have attacked it with the bitter, etc. mailgrifty; and if I am not missaken, an attempt is now made to bring forward some of those therefore it order to administer this very Conditionation; this think appears, from a ricket that has been published and named of the appendiment whick. I make no observations that are personal, but I submit it whether some of those whose names are to be found in that ticket, are not the same whom many of some now predicts. er, are not the fame whom many of you now prefent heard, about twelve months ago, most warm, most ear-ctl, and most axinous to obtain the rejection of that fythem of government, for you heard the debates with-in these walls. Now say, is it natural that those who were for the rejection of this fritem, thould be its sup-porters. I think it is not natural on their part to exsorters I I think it is not parties on the property of the parties would certainly be more unnatural for its friends to throw it into their hands.

its triends to throw it into their hands.

No doubt, gentlemen, the pretrace of amendment is a specious one. It is well known that every thing human is capable of being amended; it may therefore be failt, and shalf truly, that this spiten, like, every other production of the human mind, is capable of improvement. But let me alk, who is mod likely to improve it, its friends or its topofers? I'this question is sally answered, upon that answer your vores will be formed. I have no doubt but they will be formed in the fame

I have no doubt but hey will be formed in the fame parametrishment through the State.
Each will far, LET THE CONSTITUTION BE FAIRLY CARRIED INTO EXECUTION, BY THOSE WHO ARE NOT IT'S ENRMIES, THEN SUCH A MENDHENTS, AS EXPERIENCE MAY DISCOVER TO BE NECESSARY, CAN BE MADE WITHOUT TEARING THE WHOLE TO PIECES. And the United States may reasonably shope or given that placing for which Lord's Assignation the control that placing for which Lord's Assignation that the control that placing for which Lord's Assignation that the control that placing for which Lord's Assignation that the control that the co enjoy that happiness, which I trust is destined for then under every an ministracion of their government.

The FINAL DEPARTURE

The FINAL DEPARTURE.

X FE often have a foreboding is the human mind.

V that gives throng intimation of misformer; and this observation is illustrated by the following flory.

Jane Married George for love it he was daughter to a tich imagler, who had let her posterior on the captain of a frigure, who did not leave him a single falling, but folely dependent on middingman pay.

Their affections had confinenced in their infracy;
and Jane, being free from all controll, delivered her hand, her heart, and fortune, to George, uncondition

hand, her heart, and fortune, to George, uncondition

hand, her hearr, and fortune, to George, unconditionally.

A few days after their ribrings, George received an invitation to dime on boardhis. Capitain's this; Jane tood the card of invitation with trembling lips, and floar indications of horror. It brought to her mind a dream which had tormented her the preceding night—in which her huband had appeared to her action which had not appeared to her action which had not appeared to her action which had not appeared to her action wheel, and floating along the costs.

Jane exerted every influence of love to prevent George from accepting this lovitation; George urged the refeet he owed his Capitain, and the weakacts of giving way to feats of visionary creation. Jane felt the force of his argument, but her fubmillion to his reasoning did not dillipse or even leften her feats.

She accompanied him to the boat prefield him tolter.

She accompanied him to the boat, preffed him to her paning heart, and as he embarked offered up prayers for his protection.—
The evening passed away—the night came; but

George did not return-lane fat penfire at her window: it was two in the jake as pennee at new monow: It was two in the meriting when the law feveral light more flowly up the first-a croud approached her house. Those who gained admittance, bearing in the coppe of George. He had ftolen from the company on board to fly to the arms of lane, but shifting the ladder by which he was to have defended from the fair, fell into the fea, which had the company on the company of the same of the company of the same of the was to have defended from the fair, fell into the fea, was to have defeended from the fairs, fell into the feat, and his fread fitthing against: the gunwale of the boar, he funk and never rofe again with life.

Seen years have elaiped fines George was drowned; and during thefe inven years Jane confumed her life in bitter grief, sill affured by her physician the was pall in recovery, when the finited at the intelligence, and in a few days after met the embranes of death, without a

ANECDOTE.

SWIFT, ANECDOTE.

SWIFT, Architecture and Tarnell, who were all contempories and intimates of Lord Bathurth, took the advantage of a fine fruity ribring to walk down to a little place his Lordfhip had, about eleven miles from town. When they were about half way, Swift, who was remarkable for being an old traveller, and getting the belt room and warmed bed, pretended he did not like their pace, and faid he would walk on before, and inform his Lordship of their journey. This they a greed to that he was no fooner ant of fight, than the judging his errand, feat off a horfeman by a byeavy, to inform his Lordfhip of the particular. The man got there time enough to deliver his mediage, when his Lordfhip, recollecting Swift aever hid the finall pool thought of the following device. When he faw him coming on the avence, he ran rout to meet him, expressing his happing at feeing him, but faid, he was it mortified at one circumflance, ast unto deprive him of the pleasure of his company, and that was that a raging finall, por was in the house, but the green would accept such accommodations as a little house at the body to the complex and the wood accept such accommodations as a little house at the body to mot the agreene would afford. Swift was uscoming the complex and the complex had, in this lonely fluxation, gried to fpeak to any one atound him, he was forced "with timpert to release him, by going down, in a body, to the orm lim of the deception, and that the fifth befrough and hed in the house were at his fervicer. Swift, house of him in the lamph; when they all adjourned to the maction house, and passed the word in the interest to join in the lamph; when they all adjourned to the maction house, and passed the word in the leaf acquainted with the Filliance of their charafter. that can be conceived by those who were in the leaff auquainted with the brilliancy of their charafters.

Stephen Bolles,

SADLER & HARNESS-MAKER:

WOULD inform the publick that he carries on the V Sabeting and Harness-Maring Buffachin all its Branches at the House of Major John Cheffs Williams, where those that will please to favour him Williams, where more that write peace to revour eim with their cultum may depend, on having their work executed with a spaneti and dispatch, and the smaller favour most gratefully acknowledged, by the publicke very humble ferrant, Hadley Dec 12, 1728.

C A S H. And a generous price geren, for all kinds of SHIPPING FURR and BEES-WAX

by LEVI SHEPHARD Northampton, Dec. 1788.

A LL Person indebted to the subscribet, are de-A fired to make payment immediately—Those ac-counts not sealed by the 11th of January next, will be put 1800 the hands of an Attorney to collect. ELIHU GOODMAN.

Greenfield, Dec. 24, 1788.

TAKEN up by the Subferiber, on the 29th ult. a white heifer CALF, with a half-penay cut the under fide of each ear. The owner is defined to prove his property, pay charges and take her away.

SUPPLY CLAP.

Northampion, Dec. 17, 1788.

Northampion,

THE subscriber once more requests all Persons in debted to him for the Hampshire Gazerie, to debted to min to make immediate payment.

ANDREW WOOD,

Dec. 26, 1788.

For SALE, by the Printer hereof, 1 S T R O'N G's Genuine

ALMANACK, for 1789,

By the gross, dezen, or fingle.
An ESSAY on the Life of Gen. Israel Putnam, by Col. D. Hamphrys—Webler's Inflitter, 18, 2d, and 3d part—P(2lm-Book—Primers—Pite's Arthmetic
—Stuben's Military Exercise—An Ellay on Bap-—Muben's Military exercise—An Pagy, on nap-rifm—An Enquiry contening the Defigu and Im-portance of Christian Baptism and Discipline—Ac-count Books—Bonnet Paper—Blanks of various kinds—Writing-Paper, &c.

CASH, or any of the above articles, given for

* The Subfcribers for Mr. OSTER-WALD'S Compendium of Christian Theology, are requested to call for their Books.— A few Copies for sale, by the Printer hereof

Thomas's Almanack, and Perry's Dictionary, for fale by the Printer hereof.

* * ALL Perfons indebted to the Printer hereof, are requested to make payment immediately.

HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 7, 1789.

NORTHAMPTON, (MASSAGRUSETTS) Published by WILLIAM BUTLER.

Mr. SHERIDAN's celebrated SPEECH. (Continued.)

Westminster-Hall, Friday, June 6, 1783. Nemomers 1781, Friday, Just 6, 1788., Nemomering the rajious firms, infance of the firstly friendship find pood diffusition of the Begulatorité English interest. Mr. Steridau particularly animalwetted on the reprefentation they had assis in favour of Caprais —, whole life they had seed at the very moment when if they had needs to diffuse are him to be a first to the first the seed of the control of the seed of faved at the very homent when, if they had meant to faire any blow against the lingth interrit, the blow would have been felt. This gentleman, whole life the lines Begum had faved, and who in the first and ca-used feelings of it whoul, had repeatedly poured fourth his grateful acknowledgement of the obligation, had afterwards been made the instrument of the detrection of his faviour. I had been asked why the Managers' had not called Capt. "To the bar. "Why call him to the bar! He never hoped to fee him as the bat tills." he came there with fervent contribution and pentituding he camerbers with fervent contrition and pentitentiary zeal, to make atomement to the Princels who was to him bie fecond creator, and whom, with the breath of life the gift of the Begum, he had accused and in the pre fence of their common God, had followed to poured from special their breath in an affidavit, by which remarks to be accompanied! He would not helieve in which their their breath in the spuid not helieve in the spuid not h possible, that after having repeatedly acknowledged that he owed his life and liberty to the beneficient tuned of this Lady, he could fo far forget all that he that he dweet in 1912 and liberty to the bencheiten be and of the Lady, he could for far forget all that he ored, as of his own mere motion to come forward and make this affective. His knowledge of hearn feelings would not permission to believe that it would be polithe for any human feer extent to be guiden of an act to attrocious.—He must imagine that he had been deladed and imposed upon—sul that he had been fallely & feundalod! Meeting—and that he had been which it had been applied it. He had at the moment when he made that airdan's he was ignorator of the tring that he was made the inframeur, of the ruin, and overhappen fibble he fell of the last of the model of the last of the more lofty and commanding than any thing we ever heard, to flate the circumflance of the book, the leaves of which were tern due, and which was mutilated for herd, to flate the circumfance of the book, the leaves of which were tern one, and which was mutilized for the purpose of concealment. After fairing all the circumfances of this fast, and the mainter in which the fact had been accounted for, he called if a black perjury.—Then fring in his elongence to a flight beyond our power to trave him, he faid, that these letters, though thus tors and mangled, were brought to light. That power which gives to the arms if infant innocence the strength of Hervoles—which controlls the mighty, and abasses the considernt—which gives not no personation beyond the reach of elongence—that look that look that apptils—the supplications; that power, which in all the trust and convinces the foul—that power, which in all the turns and windings of hypperical and impedent falseling and convinces the foul—that power, which in all the turns and windings of hypperical and impedent falseling trust, leads the mind through ell the matter of the state of the detected but around ming antique.

Mr. Sheridan proceeded to flow in how many inflances, and at what critical time the state of the near thind-hip of the Beguns had diffinguished iffill, and been certain and a fargory. In the proceeding water was a state of contracting the conference of the state of th finance, and at what critical rines the fineers friend-hip of the Be gums had diffuguished sitelf, and been exerted in one favour. In that critical moment, whose fiter the affair of Capstin. Gordon, the interests of Mr. Hallings were according to his own account, almost defiperate; during the whole time, from the ard of August to the 22d of September, when with a production of the produc gally of truth he truly confeded that the firmation of timelef and his finall party was desperate;—when the totaled tengence of Heaven was should to hard, and abest to wait only for the completion of his guilt in the attempt in Cheir Sing, no break on his head, and Petajiase him to ruin——what did they do? Indeed of feiring on the crifs in earry into effect any cheeredry might have engrighted against him—infiead of accomplishing his overthere, which with their aid would at that moment have been certain, these comming him notheries worthy of the fex, the 'illapplied's to the conference of the result the object, came forward to fhare in, not to contribute in fall.

Some distributed of charge against the Beman the fecond thange, that of their affilling the

And tay but little on. We learned and the fecond than but little on.

tool possessed the qualities of bis-precies, "the inhabitants, whise mere hourse on eigenation had been habitants, whise mere hourse on eigenation had been habitants, whise mere house above the meeting of the top provide, were as enough, goaded into member; and in their design, that needs felts, that yielding, and womanish formers which characterized every action, clinaged to a perfevering politicary that was not to be included, to that on this banks of the Ganges where the indirection happened, the gotted would not be treated.—Here again we had ope jed for another was not five, the wounded would not fairer thrighelyes to be carried.—Here again we had ope jed for another was not for the trichel and purefic top-pret, and which included in the control of the trichel and purefic top-pret, and which had also the trickel and purefic top-pret, and which had also the control of the trichel and purefic top-pret, and which had happened lines the death of Sojah Dowlah, that man, who with a farsage heart had fill great lines of character, ferocity in war, had fill with a collivating hand preferred to his counter the rights which is derived from benignant Ricesband profilm foll—if this tranger, ignorant of all that had happened in a from interval, and observing the wide and general deraftation, and all the horrors of the from -offsplain inschool and profiled and profiled of the derived of the profiled of derived in what and the halp and the profiled of derived in which cannot be down and are—be world maturity congitive, what was not the slay, what he fertile helds of this beautiful. war has thus laigh wafte the fertile fields of this heauthful and once opalent country—what civil defications have happened thus to tear aim tep. and imprisely have been defined to the first the happy societies that once possend these to the first the model wide feet of the first that under violence, demostrating piery, in the exercise of its dutie.—What mercicle members has thus from the form of its dutie.—What mercicle members has thus from the third the form of its duties. The third the form of the duties of green for the duties of the duties of the duties of the form that a the form the earth every vehice of green for the creater, what monsters, have failled over the country, staining and to is found with petitierous breath, what the vional country is the property of the country, taining and to is found with petitierous breath, what the vional country is the property of the country, taining and to is found in which the fifteens the country, taining and to is found in the piece of the country, taining and to is found in the piece of the country, taining and to is found in the piece of the country, taining and to is found to the piece of the country taining and to is found to the piece of the country. what monflers, have falled over the country, tainting and poiloning with peftiferous heath, what the vorticoss appetite could add derour?— To fuck questions, what must be the agforer 1 No wars have tranged the feel and the state of the country of the product of the product of the product of the product of the means of the feel and the product of the means of the feel of the f whole people, thus greamed and ignered on to clamour and refilance, were excited by the proor and feeble influence of the Regums! When we hear from Major Nay her the oeffeription that he gives of the paroxifin, feeer, and deliring, into which despair had through the natives, when on the Earth of the p-linted Gan-ges, panting for death, they tore more widely open the lips of their gaping wounds, to accelerate their disloges, panting to death, they time more which open the lips of their gaping wounds, to accelerate their diffo-lation, and while their blood was iffing, prefented their ghaftly eyes to Heaven, breathing their freen proper that the day card might not be indeed to drink their blood, but that their file op to the throne of God, and reufe the eternal Providence to a savege the wrongs of their contrary. Will it be faild that all this was brought about by the incuntations of The tecond charge, that of their annuing on the state of their annuing of the state of their annuing on the state of th which operate is to the rain of the Prince Is in Nov. 1781. He took notice afto of the carious circum finance of Mr. Middleton's feasing base that the teams it trail.

We coff be Nahab, but thating, that having I me to the Negot of father an extraortism price I state can the prince of the prince of the Nahab, but that having I me to the Nahab, but thating, that having I me to the Nahab, but thating that I state an influence in their bosons which would father an extraortism price I state can the principal movers of all the Somonium in Oad, and here he confede he shooks there was tich a bound here he confede he shooks there was tich a bound which would render all elections in the meeting and which would render all elections in the meeting and which would render all elections in the meeting and which would render all elections in the meeting and which would render all elections in the meeting and which would render all elections in the meeting and which would render all elections to the stributed to the English gendermen. The Nahob's description of their raperity and violence was included in the common of their depreciations. They wanted all the mony that could possibly he railed in the country, by violence, by extertion, by rapine by feelth, but for two purposes, up ay the army and feel with the price of the country of the country of the country from their violence, and particularly from the violence, and particu ought to act; which tending to prelive to the species the original defiguration of Providence, figure at the arrogant diffications of man, and vandicases the independent quality of his race.

Mr. Sheridan, after this proceeded to fay, that he thought an attentive pensial of all the cicomflances, as he had endeavoured to exhibit them to the view of their Lot. Ships, would faitly them of the innocence of the Begons. But he was feathful that the proof of their Lot. Ships, would faitly them of the innocence of the Begons. But he was feathful that the proof of the guilded the pridone; and that this was the next object of his firech. In a clode chain of argumant, he proved that the rebellion was not protected—was not even in the immegiation of Mr. Haiting, until their ruis has been declared, but he rebellion was not even in the immegiation of Mr. Haiting, until their ruis has been declared, that he was not even in the immegiation of Mr. Haiting, until their ruis has been declared, that he was not even in the conciounter's that judication was notification was not even in the conciounter's that judication was necessary. To prove that, he hewed, that he wave write to the Council until the menth of February; that though he wrope letters to Mr. Wheeler, and the wave write to the Council until the menth of February; that though he wrope letters to Mr. Wheeler, and the wave writes to the Council until the menth of February; that though he wrope letters to Mr. Wheeler, and the wave write to the Council until the menth of February; that though he wrope letters to Mr. Wheeler, and the wave write to the Council until the menth of February; that though he wrope letters to Mr. Wheeler, and the wave write to the Council until the menth of the planter, man and the produced make up the body organized when he had been able to make up the body organized with great form the wind of Mr. A Narraite of the Frankelions. He hewed, that his pretended seafons for the wind he produced from the produced frain the produced seafons of the declar only the favoratic of Providence, but as one for whose fake Pravidencedeparted from the termal copin of its own wife disposations. Thus did he prefine to its own wife disposations. Thus did he prefine to far, that he was honoured and a like di in the didmining that it on the factorial factorial for the contract of th gether a fet of fallhoods, our continuence and without connection, and another, then is remembering that there is nothing which repairs for more fact in the fabrication as a fer can of their father father and a short in the his fallhood was remaily at variance, and demolified one another. I father in all his control on the former to be attempted on the father on principle—to de things contain to the challified from. This architecture multipled against the first principle, of the re. He began with the first principle, of the re. He began with the first principle, of the re. He began with the first principle, of the re. He began with the first principle, of the re. He began with the first and the conital, and fail the late of the colours at the opportunities of the re. He began with the first and the conital and fail the late of the colours at the plumed himself on the marky of his class, filled came trumballing when the same like of the restriction. He is 200 a rampare on a few