Mr. BUTLER, I have read with pleasure Mr. Read's observations of have read with picture. Vir. Read's observations on the raising of hemp, as published in your paper, Feb. 25th.—Laft fummer! had the happiness to view his fields of hemp, and to attend to this judicious re-marks on the spot. I was then lead to believe, and I masts on the tpot. I was then factly obtered, and a do now helieve, that the growing of hempin this county might be rendered very beneficial to my brother farmers—but as they have not, in general, had much experience in this branch of hubandry. I have, for their information made the following Extract from observations on the railing and drellinghemp* com-

In handling the sheaves take bold of the bands, and set them up against a series, or lay bold fite bands, and let them up signifit a lettee, or lay, them upon the grafs to drain, and then unbind them, open and firead them to dry thoroughly, then bind them up again and house them in a dry, tight place.—
The reason of bandling the hemp in this careful manner, is, that when it is well routed, whill it is over, the flust comes off with the leadt touch—therefore, if it be handled roughly, or if while it is over it be thrown into a care and carried to a diffarce to be dried, if will be greatly hum. If the hemp be rotted in a brook or running water, the bedwee must be laid across the stream, for if they be laid down lengtheness with the stream, the current of the water will wash away the lint and ruin the hemp -it most be laid down heads and points, two, four or fix thick, according to the depth of the
