Proceedings of Congress.

HOUSE, REPRESENTATIVES OF THE UNITED STATES.

MONDAY, APRIL 15.

On motion of Mr. John Adams, a resolution was adopted providing for the sale of lands in the territory of the United States, and for the employment of the proceeds in the service of the United States. The resolution was adopted without any opposition. The committee on the subject reported the bill as amended, and recommended it to the consideration of the house. The bill was read a second time, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a third time, and passed to the Senate.

TUESDAY, APRIL 16.

The bill for the establishment of the college of Charleston was presented to the house, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a second time, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a third time, and passed to the Senate.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 17.

The bill for the establishment of the university of Virginia was presented to the house, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a second time, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a third time, and passed to the Senate.

THURSDAY, APRIL 18.

The bill for the establishment of the university of Pennsylvania was presented to the house, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a second time, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a third time, and passed to the Senate.

FRIDAY, APRIL 19.

The bill for the establishment of the university of New York was presented to the house, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a second time, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a third time, and passed to the Senate.

SATURDAY, APRIL 20.

The bill for the establishment of the university of Maine was presented to the house, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a second time, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a third time, and passed to the Senate.

SUNDAY, APRIL 21.

The bill for the establishment of the university of Massachusetts was presented to the house, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a second time, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a third time, and passed to the Senate.

MONDAY, APRIL 22.

The bill for the establishment of the university of Rhode Island was presented to the house, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a second time, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a third time, and passed to the Senate.

TUESDAY, APRIL 23.

The bill for the establishment of the university of Connecticut was presented to the house, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a second time, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a third time, and passed to the Senate.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 24.

The bill for the establishment of the university of New Hampshire was presented to the house, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a second time, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a third time, and passed to the Senate.

THURSDAY, APRIL 25.

The bill for the establishment of the university of Vermont was presented to the house, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a second time, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a third time, and passed to the Senate.

FRIDAY, APRIL 26.

The bill for the establishment of the university of New Jersey was presented to the house, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a second time, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a third time, and passed to the Senate.

SATURDAY, APRIL 27.

The bill for the establishment of the university of Delaware was presented to the house, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a second time, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a third time, and passed to the Senate.

SUNDAY, APRIL 28.

The bill for the establishment of the university of Maryland was presented to the house, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a second time, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a third time, and passed to the Senate.

MONDAY, APRIL 29.

The bill for the establishment of the university of Pennsylvania was presented to the house, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a second time, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a third time, and passed to the Senate.

TUESDAY, APRIL 30.

The bill for the establishment of the university of New York was presented to the house, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a second time, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a third time, and passed to the Senate.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 1.

The bill for the establishment of the university of Massachusetts was presented to the house, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a second time, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a third time, and passed to the Senate.

THURSDAY, MAY 2.

The bill for the establishment of the university of Rhode Island was presented to the house, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a second time, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a third time, and passed to the Senate.

FRIDAY, MAY 3.

The bill for the establishment of the university of Connecticut was presented to the house, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a second time, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a third time, and passed to the Senate.

SATURDAY, MAY 4.

The bill for the establishment of the university of New Hampshire was presented to the house, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a second time, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a third time, and passed to the Senate.

SUNDAY, MAY 5.

The bill for the establishment of the university of Vermont was presented to the house, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a second time, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a third time, and passed to the Senate.

MONDAY, MAY 6.

The bill for the establishment of the university of New Jersey was presented to the house, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a second time, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a third time, and passed to the Senate.

TUESDAY, MAY 7.

The bill for the establishment of the university of Delaware was presented to the house, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a second time, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a third time, and passed to the Senate.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 8.

The bill for the establishment of the university of Maryland was presented to the house, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a second time, and referred to the committee on the subject. The report was adopted, and the bill was read a third time, and passed to the Senate.