

In the Year of our Lord, One thousand seven hundred and Ninety three.

An ACT in addition to an act, passed, in the Year of our Lord, one Thousand seven hundred and Eighty-nine, intitled, "An act determining what transactions shall be necessary to constitute the settlement of a citizen in any particular Town or district."

WHEREAS in and by an act, intitled "An act determining what transactions shall be necessary to constitute the settlement of a citizen in any particular town or district," passed in the year of our Lord, one thousand seven hundred & eighty-nine, it is among other things provided, that persons of certain descriptions in the said act mentioned, who shall come into, and reside in any town or district, for the space of two years, without being warned to inhabit the same, shall be deemed, and shall be taken to be inhabitants of such town or district: And whereas it appears expedient that the time of giving notice and warning to depart as aforesaid, shall be extended and prolonged: Therefore

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the Senate, That no person shall be deemed or taken to be an inhabitant of any town or district, by virtue of residence therein, unless he or she shall have resided in the same for the space of four years: from the time of passing the act to which this is an addition, without being warned to depart as aforesaid; the above recited act notwithstanding.

This act passed March 22, 1793. A true copy.—Attest. JOHN AVERY, jun. Secretary.

An ACT for establishing another term for holding the Court of Common Pleas and General Sessions of the Peace in the County of Worcester.

WHEREAS it has been represented to this Court, that it would be conducive to the interest and convenience of the citizens of the county of Worcester, to establish another term for holding the Courts of Common Pleas and general Sessions of the Peace, in said county.

Be it further enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the Senate, That from and after the passing this act, there shall be a Court of Common Pleas, and a Court of General Sessions of the Peace holden at Worcester within and for the county of Worcester, on the second Tuesday of June, annually.

This Act passed March 28, 1793. A true copy.—Attest. JOHN AVERY, jun. Sec'y.

An Act to suspend in certain cases, the operation of an Act, passed on the thirteenth day of February, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred & eighty-seven, entitled, "An Act for the limitation of personal Actions, and for avoiding suits at Law."

WHEREAS the operation of said Act may defeat many Creditors of their just demands, unless a longer time is allowed for commencing and suing Actions, than is allowed by said Act.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the Senate, That the said Act be suspended on the said thirteenth day of Feb. shall be so far suspended, that all Actions of account, & all actions of debt, & upon the case law, or upon any promise, lending or contract which by the said Act, or any Act suspending the operation of said Act, are limited so as they cannot be commenced and sued after the first day of June next, shall and may be commenced and sued at any time on or before the first day of December next, and not afterwards; any law to the contrary notwithstanding.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the Secretary shall cause this Act to be printed five weeks successively in all the Newspapers in this Commonwealth.

This Act passed, March 27, 1793. A true Copy.—Attest. JOHN AVERY, jun. Secretary.

Baldwin and Stotts, CLOCK and WATCH-MAKERS.

RETURN their sincere thanks to their friends and the public in general, for the very liberal encouragement they have afforded them since their commencement in business, and beg leave to inform them that they are now ready to supply them with any articles in their way at a short notice—they hope for a continuance of public favour, which they will endeavour to merit.

They have lately received a new supply of elegant gilt watch chains, seals, keys, &c. They want to purchase a quantity of old Silver, Copper and Brass, for which a generous price in cash will be given.

Points of all forts, many of which were formerly accounted difficult and crabbed, are now discussed by all sorts of people with the utmost ease and perspicuity—whole attention is taken up not only with government, political, and company, company, company, and corporate affairs, but they have also their neighbor's business to mind, as well as their own, as the domestic occurrences, and particular transactions of individuals being thought subjects of general curiosity and enquiry, so as to draw public and governmental measures.

A greater number of hands, who would otherwise be idle, and many of them useless to society; or, if employed more wickedly occupied, are now fully occupied, and may truly be said to have their hands full.

What an advantage to the community!—What a benefit to the State!—(which, tho' last named, we now begin to suspect is the primary object of your great men)—procured to caly a change—as that of distracting the heads of the whole nation.

NOTICE is hereby given to the non-resident proprietors of land lying in the town of Northampton, in the County of Hampshire, who have not paid their taxes to the subscriber for the year next, that unless they are paid on or before the 1st day of June next, I shall attend to the directions the law has prescribed to collect them.

HUMOROUS REMARKS ON NEWS-PAPERS.

NEWS-PAPERS, at this period, in this free country, may be considered in a three fold light—first, as a vehicle of foreign and domestic intelligence—2d, as a method of trade & manufacture—3d, and as the means of raising vast sums to government by one of the most easy and safe, without being grievous, that ever was laid upon a people.

The price of the thing—and not at all extravagant, when we come to consider the quantity as well as the quality.

The common people, of late years, are becoming wonderfully learned, as they are informed of the latest heretics to the Newspaper productions of the press—they will therein find employment and influence sufficient for all the purposes of society and civil life.

Points of all forts, many of which were formerly accounted difficult and crabbed, are now discussed by all sorts of people with the utmost ease and perspicuity—whole attention is taken up not only with government, political, and company, company, company, and corporate affairs, but they have also their neighbor's business to mind, as well as their own, as the domestic occurrences, and particular transactions of individuals being thought subjects of general curiosity and enquiry, so as to draw public and governmental measures.

you have been the victims of the vengeance of your France; and since that time you lost all hopes of Freedom, till a Revolution, supported by the most glorious success, has given you in Frenchmen, allies at once powerful, generous and free, who will second your efforts to be free, or will lead to die with you.

Baratians! It is not again you that the French Nation has declared War: friends to all Nations, the has only for Enemies all Tyrants. The more Enemies we have, the more will our Principles be propagated: Perseus and Victory will support the imperishable Rights of Man; and Nations will be weary of exhausting their blood and treasures, for a small number of Individuals, who keep discord alive, only to deceive and inflame the people.

Has he not since constantly favored the English Commerce, at the expense of your own? At this moment, does he not deliver up your most important settlements, the Cape of Good Hope, and the Head of Ceylon, and all your Commerce in India, to the only Nation whose interest rivalship you have reason to fear?
