

General Subow commands the corps of 20,000 men which belong to the Russian army which has been ordered by prince Repnin to march into Poland. According to the official news, the Russians have not retreated a single step in this city. Their rage was still more heightened by the resistance they met with. They not only refused quarters to the Polish soldiers, but even put to the sword all the inhabitants, without respect to sex or age, a bloody offering to the manes of their brethren killed at Warsaw in the counter-revolution of April 17th.

From the smoking ruins of Vienna, General Subow marches against Gradow; another corps of 10,000 Russians hasten by forced marches against Warsaw, and has already reached Danewka. The approach of the Russians is said to have produced a great change in the minds of the inhabitants of Warsaw and some deserters say that they were without bread for four whole days. The desertions in the Polish army would also be very frequent, were the soldiers not closely guarded by the cavalry and the Peasants.

The trenches before Warsaw are opened and batteries are erected in them which built the suburbs of Warsaw on this side and fire already in several parts of it. The Poles diligently and bravely fight, but with very little effect. The numerous deserters assure us, that on account of the numerous desertions, the Poles will not be able to hold out much longer; but we shall hardly have patience to wait the time.

It is said that Holland will also subsidize Austria if her Armies will contribute further to the safety of Holland.

• For SALE, a good Team HORSE.
—Esquire of the Printer.
Nov. 12, 1794.

Northampton and Albany Stage.

The Proprietors of this line informed the public, that the Stage starts from Northampton and Albany on Mondays, Tuesdays at 10 o'clock in the fore evening—returns to Albany and Northampton on Tuesdays and Thursdays on Wednesdays and Fridays on Saturdays. The passengers will be transported to Boston and Whitecourt without any delay, until the 15th of April next—when they will run three times a week to Albany and Northampton on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, and return on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Tickets can be taken at Mac Gough's Albany—and Mr. Abrahm Pomeroy's, Northampton—the fare 3d. per mile—14th baggage gratis, all over at the rate of 150th of a penny. The Proprietors will not be accountable for the safety of any baggage, unless receipted for.

FOMEROY, HUNT, & Co.

FOR SALE BY

SIMEON BUTLER,

Price 2s. a Grob—1/3s. a dozen, and 4th. single.

Beers' Almanac for 1795.

CONTAINING the usual Calculations. The adventures of Col. Daniel Boone, one of the original settlers of Kentucky containing the wars of the Indians on the Ohio, 1769, and the year 1784, and the first establishment and progress of the settlement on that river—Curious speech by a Murderer.—A bit of Advice.—Clarity an old Story.—The tall Will and Tobacco of Timothy Tarbaker.—The Rashness punished.—The Devil killed by a Storked.—The origin of Tobacco.—King pin and the Jew.—The two lovers.—A number of entertaining anecdotes.—Cours in Courtiers and Miscellaneous.—Table of Interest, &c. &c.

Where may be had, Webster's and other Spelling Books, Merrett's Account Book, Blank Books, whole-sale and retail.—Also, Writing Paper, by the Ream, or less.

Northampton, Nov. 5, 1794.

Aaron Clapp, Jun. and Company.

ARE opening at their store near the meeting-house, in Southampton, an assortment of GOODS, which they are determined to sell on reasonable terms as usual, to all the country, for ready pay or on credit.

Many kinds of produce will be taken in payment for the above Goods.
Southampton, Nov. 11, 1794.

EBENEZER HUNT,

HAS just received from London, a large and general assortment of DRUGS and MEDICINES, which he will sell at the lowest market price for cash, most kinds of grain, or three credit.—Apothecaries may be supplied with many articles in quantity, as low as can be purchased in this country. He has likewise for sale W. L. and N. E. Rum, French Brandy, Port, Sherry and Malaga Wines, Leaf and Bone Sugars, Sanchong and Bala Tea, Coffee, Cloves, Nutmegs, Raisins, Tamandis, Cinnamon, Cloves, Nutmegs, Pepper and Allspice. Also, Logwood, Fustick, Orchill, Oil Vitriol, Blue and White Vitriol, Coppers, Verdigrise, Alum, Oil Turpentine, by the gallon. Also, German and blistered Steel, Nail Rods, &c. &c.

Northampton, Nov. 12, 1794.

Erastus Lyman,

HAS for sale, W. L. and N. E. Rum, by hhd. bbl. or less quantity, French Brandy, Geneva by the case or less, Sherry and Cape Madeira Wine, by the cask, or less, Porter, Leaf and Brown Sugars by the cwt. or less, Molasses, Rice, Indigo, Cloves, Hyson and Esher Tea, Coffee, Herring, Salmon and Mackerel by the hhd. or less, Bar Iron, red, Nails, Lemass Paper, Tobacco, Snuff, Pipes, Lemass Chalk, &c. &c.

All Persons whose accounts are more than 12 Months standing will be put in suit, unless paid immediately; and all other accounts, whose time of payment are expired are requested to make immediate payment.

Northampton, Oct. 22, 1794.

WANTED, three or four

JOUSEYAN SHOEMAKERS, to whom general orders will be sent. Wanted.—Apprentices to the above business, must active LAD, 14 or 15 years of age. Apply to

SETH RUSSELL,
Northampton, October 27, 1794.

FOR SALE,

A LARGE new dwelling house, with one acre of land, lately occupied by Miss Murray and Bennett, standing in the center of Alford, with an excellent cellar under the whole, peculiarly situated for a tavern keeper, or Merchant perhaps to stand in this country is more advantageously situated for a trader as it lies in the heart of a Country, adjoining with level, pork, wheat, &c. &c. from which he might reap great benefit.

Also, a Building and apparatus complete for manufacturing Potash within a few rods of said house. Also, Three rights of land in Vermont, two of which lie in the town of Victory and one in Woodbury. Also, an excellent pasture lying in Wareley, well fenced and watered. Enquire of J. MALLBY.

Hatfield, October 27, 1794.

STOLEN from the Subscriber, on Friday night last, three MARES, two of them five years old, one of the two inclines to pace, the other trots—the other one three years old, natural trotter—all had stars in their foreheads, darkish Manes and Tails. The thief and mares were seen in Northampton, on Saturday evening last—Wanted, if any one has had news, or taken them to the owner, shall receive 10 dollars for each mare, and for the thief, or thieves, if brought in justice, 20 dollars, together with necessary charges, by

PHILLIP SLEAD,
Pittsdown, (State Nov. 10, 1794.

Strayed or stolen out of the pasture of the Subscriber, in Alford, the 1st inst. a black MARE, about nine years old, a natural pacer, a white Bar in her forehead, that all round. Whoever will take up said Mare, or give information where she may be had, shall be handsomely rewarded, and all necessary charges paid by the owner.

JOSHUA HOWES,
Alford, Nov. 3, 1794.

Broke into the inclosure

of the Subscriber, about the middle of August last, a red white face STEAR, supposed to be about two years old, marked with a half penny cut the under side of the right ear, and a hole through the left ear. The owner is desired to prove property, pay charges and take him away.

IRA POMEROY,
Southampton, Oct. 14, 1794.

TAKEN up by the Subscriber, the 1st of October inst. a dark brown Mare Colt, supposed to be two years old, natural trotter and has been dock'd. The owner is desired to prove his property, pay charges, and take her away.

JOSEPH CARY,
Williamburgh, Oct. 14, 1794.

CASH GIVEN FOR CLEAN COTTON AND LINEN RAGS.

LEVI SHEPHERD,

Has just imported from London, a general assortment of

Drugs and Medicines,

Which are now ready for sale—he is now opening also a very general assortment of EUROPEAN and INDIA GOODS, suitable for the season, amongst which are superfine Broad-Cloths, Keyficers and Castings, of various colors,—Boiling Cloths, Life-Dye Stuffs, and Painters' Cloths, Linseed Oil, Spirits Turpentine, Rosin, Pitch, Vermilion, Leaf, and Brown Sugars, West India and New-England Rum, Madeira, Sherry and Malaga Wines, Gin by the cask, Cinnamon, Cloves, Blace, Ginger, Allspice, Pepper, Coffee, Rice, Chocolate—German and the best blistered Steel for edge tools.—Also a quantity of Hollow Ware, such as Pot Ash Kettles, 5 nails ditto, Pots, Cartand Waggon Boxes, &c.

Said SHEPHERD, has for sale 6 Hhds. Ste Croix, Rum, 6 Cases Malaga Wine, 12 bbls. New Rum, 6 Pipes best French Brandy, 3 Tons, best Philadelphia Iron, 2 Hhds. Brown and one ditto Leaf Sugar. At the same place is wanted a quantity of black Walnut Oats, Barley, and good well dried FLAX, that has never been well dried by Cellars, in consequence of which some hundreds of pounds was totally lost the last year.

Northampton, Nov. 10, 1794.

Stebbins and Snow,

Have this day received a very large assortment of

Fall and Winter Goods,

among which are BLUE, London Dye, and flax & flaxen broadcloths, blue and drab for all colors, blue, brown, and green for all colors, striped elastic, and Orlens Kersentines, sergents, coatings, green and red haires, yellow and white flannels, rose blankets, silk crapes, poplins, Denmark lute, cambrics, striped and plain waistcoats, black ruffels, lallings, striped and plain callimanco, black and olive velvets, cordelers, demins, Jorants, tammies and moreens—fashionable vest shapers, cotton sheeting, cord percale, variety of chintzes and calicoes, chintzes and poplin Daws, flax, worsted and leather Goods, handkerchiefs, handkerchiefs and other flit handkerchiefs, cotton and linen do, muslins, muslin handkerchiefs, bonas, gauzes, cambrics, modes, Perfacts, farcees and tiffany—variety of plain and colored ribbons, lawes, sewing silk twist, laces, edgings, ruffal and lalling shaws,—sars, wool, and chip hats, cotton wool, white emons, plumes, pens and writing paper, muslins and flannels, Saxia Glesier, swimming-pans, ferns, fustices and trays, &c.

A general assortment of Glass, Pewter, Crockery, Stoves, Hand, and Cutlery Ware, DRUGS, and MEDICINES, as usual.

Lined Oil, Dry Stuffs and Paints—Rum, Wine, Brandy, Molasses, Leaf and Brown Sugars, Raisins, Sanchong, Hyson and Bones Tea, Coffee, Chocolate, Nutmeg, Allspice, Ginger, Cassia, and Pepper—Sweets, Russia and Bloom Iron, German and Blistered Steel, 8d and 10d Nails, 8 to 10 Shaws, Pins, Needles, Pipes, Indigo, Iron Shovels, Spades, Tringings, Saws, Lead, &c.

All kinds of produce, shaws, &c. received as usual in payment.
See his Adver. Nov. 2, 1794.

NEW GOOD GOODS!

SCARLET, Blue, and other cloths Broad Cloths, Blue and Olive-Varities, Twill Corduroy and Thicketts, Twill Lamplins, Batizes, Flannels, Coatings, &c. Variety of fashionable Buttons and Tringings, a fine assortment of Waistcoats, Cambrics, striped and plain Cambrics, Crapes, and Poplins, Modes, Sarcentines, Laws, Molins, and Gauzes, Bandannas and other Handkerchiefs, Laces and Edging—A general assortment of Chintzes & Calicoes, Colors and Purple Shawls, Oilrich Feathered, Gold and Silver Cord, a fine assortment of Handkerchiefs, Old and New Rum, Brandy, West India, Salt, Tea, Sole Leather, Wool Cards, Iron Shovels, Bricks, Cement, Twill and Hand Tobacco, Powder and Shot, 6 and 8 Window Glass, Pepper, Allspice, Cinnamon, Ginger, &c. &c. to be sold, for good pay, by

SELAH NORTON,
N. B. I am under necessity to call on those indebted to me according to contract to settle forthwith, they will certainly save cost and much oblige their humble servant,
S. N.

Alford, Nov. 5, 1794.

BROKE into the inclosure of the Subscriber, on the 14th of September, a black, two years old HEIFER, no artificial mark. The owner is desired to prove property, pay charges, and take her away.

JOSEPH RICE,
Conway, Oct. 25, 1794.

Adam Coffin,

FROM Boston, has for sale the late

Hunt's and Mr. Heath's, on the English Goods—among which is a beautiful assortment of Chintzes and bluish, a great variety of Women's Lined Cloth Shoes, of the very best kind, with full proportion of large fizes. Red, Blue and Green Tea, fine of the very best kind ever imported into America, an excellent assortment of Mrs's Wines and Children's Leather Goods, Cinnamon, Pepper, Nutmegs, Allspice, Ginger, &c. N. B. Said Coffin, has carried on the Leather Dressing business for upwards of twenty years in Boston, he has brought with him, all kinds of leather suitable for leather breeches, leather for linings, dures, puckets, Whips, leather for harness, &c. ready made, with all the necessary tools for Saddlers or Shoe Makers—Also, as good a parcel of white allspice, Sassafras, Lamblisks, as ever was offered. If any Trader or other, is disposed to purchase the whole or a part of the leather business, country produce will be received in payment—and he will give them a large Wood will not be refused.

Nov. 12, 1794.

For sale at the house of

John Hart

A handsome assortment of European and West India Goods, among which are the following: SUPERFINE and Choice Cloths, Cens and Calicoes, Modes and Satins, Velvets and Thicketts, Castings, Hairs and Flannels, &c. with an assortment of Hard Stone, Crockery and Glass Ware, excellent Ste Croix Rum, by the hhd. or less, Terra Island Salt by the Tonn, a tunful, Molasses by the hhd. or gallon, and Leaf Sugar, Pepper, Allspice, Ginger, Cinnamon, Nutmegs, Allspice, Reddiger Seed, which he now offers for sale his friends and Customers for pay in kind as usual, or he can be had at any price whatever. Constant attendance given to the smallest farthings acknowledged—he wants to purchase a large quantity of Flax Seed, for which good pay will be made if delivered soon.

N. B. He requests all those indebted to him, who have had a reasonable time to make payment immediately—that who neglect a compliance will be called upon a disagreeable way without further notice.

Hatfield, Nov. 11, 1794.

FOR sale, a quantity of best made Windsor CHAIRS, made by

BENJAMIN A. EDWARDS,
Northampton, Oct. 17, 1794.

To be Sold, by order of Court, on Thursday the 10 of Jan next, all the real estate of Daniel Stanton, late of Norwich, in the County of Hampshire, deceased, at the house of Athur Paul, holder in said Norwich, at 1 o'clock, P. M.

JAMES CONVERSE, Admr.
Norwich, Nov. 7, 1794.

To be Sold, a very valuable farm in Cheshelton, containing about 1000 hundred and thirty acres, the better of which is under improvement, with a convenient dwelling house, a mill, a windmill, a wood and cow barn, and Farm, lays about one mile and half South of the meeting-house—any person desirous to purchase may know the particulars by applying to

ALEXANDER PHILLIPS,
living on the premises.
Nov. 12, 1794.

Strayed from the Subscriber on the 26th ult. a cow SWINE, of any artificial mark, unknown. The owner will reward said Service or give information where she may be found, that he has formerly rewarded her.

JOSEPH H. BRECK,
Northampton, Nov. 3, 1794.

BROKE into the inclosure of the Subscriber, on the 10th of Nov. a cow grey, white and black, natural trotter, and has been dock'd. The owner is desired to prove his property, pay charges, and take her away.

SETH PARSONS,
Northampton, Nov. 12, 1794.

TAKEN up by the Subscriber, on the 10th inst. a dark bay MARE, supposed to be about 4 years old, natural trotter, and has been dock'd. The owner is desired to prove his property, pay charges, and take her away.

ELISHA MATHER,
Northampton, Nov. 12, 1794.

Hampshire Gazette.

NORTHAMPTON, (Massachusetts) PRINTED AND PUBLISHED BY WILLIAM BUTLER.
[Vol. IX.] WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1794. [Num. 430]

REASON! RHETORIC! HUMANITY!

FROM THE FEDERAL ORRERY.

(Published in Boston.)

AD. PAINÉ,

READ in the last Apollo, a list of our country and forgotten brethren, at Alton, accompanied with an urgent and pathetic address of A. HUMPHREYS, reprobating his fellow-citizens their inattention, and their profligate exposure to the plague which rages there. It is dated, July 25th, and is not recited to have been read through a public voice. (Has it been read through a public voice, from amongst their suffrages, our duty, and the sense which we do there? It has long since been forgotten, and is, in consequence, that we sit under the shade of the tree of life, and calmly look upon our brethren and friends, groaning under the yoke, and both of errors. Had I been a possessor of the last name or influence, my name should have rung through the city, incessantly, in the ears of my fellow-citizens, (knowing as I do, I can no longer retain my own feelings, endeavorers. If I am silent, because the subject does not admit of publication. To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

Nothing need be said, to prove the duty. It is clear, as the sun in the firmament. The man, who can stand, and give another's affliction, when he might have helped him, even at his own risk, deserves the epithet, through his own body. We then, shall we say of those, who can, unconcernedly, suffer their countrymen to remain in a state of slavery, worse than death, from which, (did not a sense of duty prevent) Americans would undoubtedly deliver themselves, by death—when they can see them, without risk, without concern, without relinquishing any of the blessings of life?—The blessings of life!

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has annexed to the performance of duty, than the feelings, which nature implants all the feelings, which nature implants, is happy in performing any of the duties of his station?—To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has annexed to the performance of duty, than the feelings, which nature implants all the feelings, which nature implants, is happy in performing any of the duties of his station?—To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has annexed to the performance of duty, than the feelings, which nature implants all the feelings, which nature implants, is happy in performing any of the duties of his station?—To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has annexed to the performance of duty, than the feelings, which nature implants all the feelings, which nature implants, is happy in performing any of the duties of his station?—To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has annexed to the performance of duty, than the feelings, which nature implants all the feelings, which nature implants, is happy in performing any of the duties of his station?—To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has annexed to the performance of duty, than the feelings, which nature implants all the feelings, which nature implants, is happy in performing any of the duties of his station?—To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has annexed to the performance of duty, than the feelings, which nature implants all the feelings, which nature implants, is happy in performing any of the duties of his station?—To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has annexed to the performance of duty, than the feelings, which nature implants all the feelings, which nature implants, is happy in performing any of the duties of his station?—To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has annexed to the performance of duty, than the feelings, which nature implants all the feelings, which nature implants, is happy in performing any of the duties of his station?—To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has annexed to the performance of duty, than the feelings, which nature implants all the feelings, which nature implants, is happy in performing any of the duties of his station?—To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has annexed to the performance of duty, than the feelings, which nature implants all the feelings, which nature implants, is happy in performing any of the duties of his station?—To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has annexed to the performance of duty, than the feelings, which nature implants all the feelings, which nature implants, is happy in performing any of the duties of his station?—To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has annexed to the performance of duty, than the feelings, which nature implants all the feelings, which nature implants, is happy in performing any of the duties of his station?—To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has annexed to the performance of duty, than the feelings, which nature implants all the feelings, which nature implants, is happy in performing any of the duties of his station?—To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has annexed to the performance of duty, than the feelings, which nature implants all the feelings, which nature implants, is happy in performing any of the duties of his station?—To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has annexed to the performance of duty, than the feelings, which nature implants all the feelings, which nature implants, is happy in performing any of the duties of his station?—To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has annexed to the performance of duty, than the feelings, which nature implants all the feelings, which nature implants, is happy in performing any of the duties of his station?—To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has annexed to the performance of duty, than the feelings, which nature implants all the feelings, which nature implants, is happy in performing any of the duties of his station?—To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has annexed to the performance of duty, than the feelings, which nature implants all the feelings, which nature implants, is happy in performing any of the duties of his station?—To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has annexed to the performance of duty, than the feelings, which nature implants all the feelings, which nature implants, is happy in performing any of the duties of his station?—To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has annexed to the performance of duty, than the feelings, which nature implants all the feelings, which nature implants, is happy in performing any of the duties of his station?—To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

FROM THE FEDERAL ORRERY.

(Published in Boston.)

AD. PAINÉ,

READ in the last Apollo, a list of our country and forgotten brethren, at Alton, accompanied with an urgent and pathetic address of A. HUMPHREYS, reprobating his fellow-citizens their inattention, and their profligate exposure to the plague which rages there. It is dated, July 25th, and is not recited to have been read through a public voice. (Has it been read through a public voice, from amongst their suffrages, our duty, and the sense which we do there? It has long since been forgotten, and is, in consequence, that we sit under the shade of the tree of life, and calmly look upon our brethren and friends, groaning under the yoke, and both of errors. Had I been a possessor of the last name or influence, my name should have rung through the city, incessantly, in the ears of my fellow-citizens, (knowing as I do, I can no longer retain my own feelings, endeavorers. If I am silent, because the subject does not admit of publication. To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

Nothing need be said, to prove the duty. It is clear, as the sun in the firmament. The man, who can stand, and give another's affliction, when he might have helped him, even at his own risk, deserves the epithet, through his own body. We then, shall we say of those, who can, unconcernedly, suffer their countrymen to remain in a state of slavery, worse than death, from which, (did not a sense of duty prevent) Americans would undoubtedly deliver themselves, by death—when they can see them, without risk, without concern, without relinquishing any of the blessings of life?—The blessings of life!

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has annexed to the performance of duty, than the feelings, which nature implants all the feelings, which nature implants, is happy in performing any of the duties of his station?—To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has annexed to the performance of duty, than the feelings, which nature implants all the feelings, which nature implants, is happy in performing any of the duties of his station?—To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has annexed to the performance of duty, than the feelings, which nature implants all the feelings, which nature implants, is happy in performing any of the duties of his station?—To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has annexed to the performance of duty, than the feelings, which nature implants all the feelings, which nature implants, is happy in performing any of the duties of his station?—To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has annexed to the performance of duty, than the feelings, which nature implants all the feelings, which nature implants, is happy in performing any of the duties of his station?—To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has annexed to the performance of duty, than the feelings, which nature implants all the feelings, which nature implants, is happy in performing any of the duties of his station?—To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has annexed to the performance of duty, than the feelings, which nature implants all the feelings, which nature implants, is happy in performing any of the duties of his station?—To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has annexed to the performance of duty, than the feelings, which nature implants all the feelings, which nature implants, is happy in performing any of the duties of his station?—To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has annexed to the performance of duty, than the feelings, which nature implants all the feelings, which nature implants, is happy in performing any of the duties of his station?—To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has annexed to the performance of duty, than the feelings, which nature implants all the feelings, which nature implants, is happy in performing any of the duties of his station?—To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has annexed to the performance of duty, than the feelings, which nature implants all the feelings, which nature implants, is happy in performing any of the duties of his station?—To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has annexed to the performance of duty, than the feelings, which nature implants all the feelings, which nature implants, is happy in performing any of the duties of his station?—To be cool, on such a subject, is to expose with the consciences of our countrymen.)

What greater blessings can be conceived, than false satisfaction, which the God of mercies has