Gold is not the most precious article the provinces of Holland offer us. Provisions of all kinds, and abundance of those merchandizes which begin to become fearer in France, are of much more importance to the Republic, and if we know how to take all the advantages of this conqueft, the former abundance will foon return to France. The maintaining of our armie will coff the Republic not a farthing, and our enemies difgraced, confounded, de-feated, and routed on all fides, will be glad to accept kneeling, the conditions we shall pleafe to grapt them.

Hermet,

BEAUTIFUL fell blooded borfe, A BEAUTIFUL, fell blooded horse, 15 hands and an half high, will fland this seaton, in Northampton, at the flable occupied the last year by Mr. Adam Colfon, at the moderate price of fix dollars the frason, 20f. the fingle leap, and 10 dollars to infixe a foal. Hermit was bred in Vir-ginia, his Sire Old Liberty, an imported horse, his dam a fall blooded mate fired by Bullrock; The fobscriber thinks it unnecessary to fay any thing further in recommendation of this horie, than that it is the fame Hermet which has flood feveral feafons, on Long-Island, at Quaker Hill, and at Greenfeld in Connedicut, where his reputation for fored and fine colts, flands unfivalled : He is now 15 years old, and is ready to that against any horse of that age, and with equal weight, in New England.

Ufeful Cub.

WILL fland at the fame flable, at five dollars the featon, $\sqrt{5}$/; the fingle leap, and 8 dollars to inforc a foal. Cob in a cole from Hermet, 15 hands high, well fpread, and thort jointed: There is went spread, and more jointed. I never no horfe, perhaps, here calculated to improve the breed of ofeful horfer than this—to great firength in the collar, his colts will unit a fine light flee in the fieldle.
