

powers which if they should be abused, may prove fatal, I am strongly affected by it. I feel that the safety of the nation is at stake, and that the President, who is a man of honor, will not permit me to be deceived by the words of a man who is a traitor to his country.

I now come to the explanation of my dispatch, No. 6. A little time after my arrival in America, I had reflected on the conduct of the President, who was acquainted in the different States, to be employed in the purchase of flour. This request naturally led him to believe that there were persons employed in the purchase of flour, who were not citizens of the United States.

I had already communicated to him a list of names, which I had taken from the papers of the President, and which I had taken from the papers of the President, and which I had taken from the papers of the President.

I had a private conversation with the President, and he told me that he had taken from the papers of the President, and which I had taken from the papers of the President.

I had a private conversation with the President, and he told me that he had taken from the papers of the President, and which I had taken from the papers of the President.

I had a private conversation with the President, and he told me that he had taken from the papers of the President, and which I had taken from the papers of the President.

I had a private conversation with the President, and he told me that he had taken from the papers of the President, and which I had taken from the papers of the President.

I had a private conversation with the President, and he told me that he had taken from the papers of the President, and which I had taken from the papers of the President.

I had a private conversation with the President, and he told me that he had taken from the papers of the President, and which I had taken from the papers of the President.

I had a private conversation with the President, and he told me that he had taken from the papers of the President, and which I had taken from the papers of the President.

Extract from the political dispatch, No. 3, of July 1795, to the Minister of Foreign Affairs. The Secretary of State appeared to open himself without reserve. He pointed to me the justifications of the President, which were nothing more than a display of his own vanity.

Under the pretext of giving credit to government, they would absolutely make a monopoly of it. They desire him, as to the rights of the people, as well as upon the subject of the President's conduct.

Under the pretext of giving credit to government, they would absolutely make a monopoly of it. They desire him, as to the rights of the people, as well as upon the subject of the President's conduct.

Under the pretext of giving credit to government, they would absolutely make a monopoly of it. They desire him, as to the rights of the people, as well as upon the subject of the President's conduct.

Under the pretext of giving credit to government, they would absolutely make a monopoly of it. They desire him, as to the rights of the people, as well as upon the subject of the President's conduct.

Under the pretext of giving credit to government, they would absolutely make a monopoly of it. They desire him, as to the rights of the people, as well as upon the subject of the President's conduct.

Under the pretext of giving credit to government, they would absolutely make a monopoly of it. They desire him, as to the rights of the people, as well as upon the subject of the President's conduct.

Under the pretext of giving credit to government, they would absolutely make a monopoly of it. They desire him, as to the rights of the people, as well as upon the subject of the President's conduct.

Under the pretext of giving credit to government, they would absolutely make a monopoly of it. They desire him, as to the rights of the people, as well as upon the subject of the President's conduct.

Under the pretext of giving credit to government, they would absolutely make a monopoly of it. They desire him, as to the rights of the people, as well as upon the subject of the President's conduct.

A report was made from the committee of claims against the President, in the name of the President, and which I had taken from the papers of the President.

The whole then referred itself into a committee of claims, and which I had taken from the papers of the President, and which I had taken from the papers of the President.

The whole then referred itself into a committee of claims, and which I had taken from the papers of the President, and which I had taken from the papers of the President.

The whole then referred itself into a committee of claims, and which I had taken from the papers of the President, and which I had taken from the papers of the President.

The whole then referred itself into a committee of claims, and which I had taken from the papers of the President, and which I had taken from the papers of the President.

The whole then referred itself into a committee of claims, and which I had taken from the papers of the President, and which I had taken from the papers of the President.

The whole then referred itself into a committee of claims, and which I had taken from the papers of the President, and which I had taken from the papers of the President.

The whole then referred itself into a committee of claims, and which I had taken from the papers of the President, and which I had taken from the papers of the President.

The whole then referred itself into a committee of claims, and which I had taken from the papers of the President, and which I had taken from the papers of the President.

The whole then referred itself into a committee of claims, and which I had taken from the papers of the President, and which I had taken from the papers of the President.

inhabitants of Bennington, in the State of Vermont, which he requested by the letter to communicate to the house. The subject of the petition was the late treaty with Britain, which the Britishers enforce in several terms.

Mr. Tracy the chairman of the committee of claims, after a statement of the circumstances, declared the committee to be of the opinion that it had not been altogether negligent in preferring his claim, if he had not obtained a full and complete satisfaction.

It was a question, he said, with the committee, whether the statute of limitations should be suspended in any case. It was agreed to refer the matter to a committee of claims.

It was a question, he said, with the committee, whether the statute of limitations should be suspended in any case. It was agreed to refer the matter to a committee of claims.

It was a question, he said, with the committee, whether the statute of limitations should be suspended in any case. It was agreed to refer the matter to a committee of claims.

It was a question, he said, with the committee, whether the statute of limitations should be suspended in any case. It was agreed to refer the matter to a committee of claims.

It was a question, he said, with the committee, whether the statute of limitations should be suspended in any case. It was agreed to refer the matter to a committee of claims.

It was a question, he said, with the committee, whether the statute of limitations should be suspended in any case. It was agreed to refer the matter to a committee of claims.

It was a question, he said, with the committee, whether the statute of limitations should be suspended in any case. It was agreed to refer the matter to a committee of claims.

It was a question, he said, with the committee, whether the statute of limitations should be suspended in any case. It was agreed to refer the matter to a committee of claims.

which he had on board as seamen, who called the threats of the captain, second mate, and crew, and three other boats on board. The chief mate had three canes ready to throw, and the crew were in a state of insurrection.

The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board. The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board.

The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board. The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board.

The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board. The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board.

The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board. The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board.

The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board. The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board.

The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board. The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board.

The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board. The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board.

The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board. The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board.

The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board. The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board.

which he had on board as seamen, who called the threats of the captain, second mate, and crew, and three other boats on board. The chief mate had three canes ready to throw, and the crew were in a state of insurrection.

The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board. The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board.

The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board. The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board.

The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board. The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board.

The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board. The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board.

The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board. The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board.

The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board. The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board.

The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board. The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board.

The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board. The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board.

The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board. The vessel was taken to the harbor, and the crew were put on board.

On Friday last the house of representatives of the State of North Carolina, in a committee of the whole, resumed the consideration of a resolution, relative to the further consideration of a resolution, relative to the further consideration of a resolution.

The resolution was passed, and the house adjourned. The resolution was passed, and the house adjourned.

The resolution was passed, and the house adjourned. The resolution was passed, and the house adjourned.

The resolution was passed, and the house adjourned. The resolution was passed, and the house adjourned.

The resolution was passed, and the house adjourned. The resolution was passed, and the house adjourned.

The resolution was passed, and the house adjourned. The resolution was passed, and the house adjourned.

The resolution was passed, and the house adjourned. The resolution was passed, and the house adjourned.

The resolution was passed, and the house adjourned. The resolution was passed, and the house adjourned.

The resolution was passed, and the house adjourned. The resolution was passed, and the house adjourned.

The resolution was passed, and the house adjourned. The resolution was passed, and the house adjourned.

REGISTER OF DEEDS OFFICE, Middle District of North Carolina, in the County of Johnston, in the State of North Carolina, in the County of Johnston, in the State of North Carolina.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the infallible of the Office of the Register of Deeds, in the County of Johnston, in the State of North Carolina, in the County of Johnston, in the State of North Carolina.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the infallible of the Office of the Register of Deeds, in the County of Johnston, in the State of North Carolina, in the County of Johnston, in the State of North Carolina.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the infallible of the Office of the Register of Deeds, in the County of Johnston, in the State of North Carolina, in the County of Johnston, in the State of North Carolina.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the infallible of the Office of the Register of Deeds, in the County of Johnston, in the State of North Carolina, in the County of Johnston, in the State of North Carolina.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the infallible of the Office of the Register of Deeds, in the County of Johnston, in the State of North Carolina, in the County of Johnston, in the State of North Carolina.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the infallible of the Office of the Register of Deeds, in the County of Johnston, in the State of North Carolina, in the County of Johnston, in the State of North Carolina.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the infallible of the Office of the Register of Deeds, in the County of Johnston, in the State of North Carolina, in the County of Johnston, in the State of North Carolina.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the infallible of the Office of the Register of Deeds, in the County of Johnston, in the State of North Carolina, in the County of Johnston, in the State of North Carolina.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the infallible of the Office of the Register of Deeds, in the County of Johnston, in the State of North Carolina, in the County of Johnston, in the State of North Carolina.

JOSEPH FAUCHET. I the undersigned Peter Augustus Adet, Minister Plenipotentiary of the French Republic, conformable to the instructions which I have received from my Government, have signed with my own hand, and which he has not to be lodged in the Archives of the French Republic.

FEDERAL LEGISLATURE. HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. December 3, 1795. SUNDAY private petitions were read and referred. A petition signed by the citizens of Virginia, was read and referred to the committee of the whole on the 5th of December.

ADJOURNED. A report was made from the committee of claims against the President, in the name of the President, and which I had taken from the papers of the President.

ADJOURNED. A report was made from the committee of claims against the President, in the name of the President, and which I had taken from the papers of the President.

ADJOURNED. A report was made from the committee of claims against the President, in the name of the President, and which I had taken from the papers of the President.

ADJOURNED. A report was made from the committee of claims against the President, in the name of the President, and which I had taken from the papers of the President.

ADJOURNED. A report was made from the committee of claims against the President, in the name of the President, and which I had taken from the papers of the President.

ADJOURNED. A report was made from the committee of claims against the President, in the name of the President, and which I had taken from the papers of the President.