Lo ! hehold the oriest beam Lo th' callern gate appears, threaks this latid chaps up, And earth and nature cheers.

Augus a berils the wamb of night With her retalgact ray, Bright Priocenus from the radient call, Rolls on the cer of day.

At morn's approach the earth exalts All nature feens to fing.
All creatures of the fields rejoice The erores in scho ring.

The hills and vales responsive found With exhiberating joy; The bleating theep their voices saife, And herds their tongues employ.

The printed nations of the fky Salute the rifing mora;
And in melodious concert join'd,
They warhle forth their tong.

By idlind hig'd, the feather'd choir Begin their goatle lays, And as they wing their airy way. They tune their notes to praife.

I too, will join the gen'est long, And gesteful homoge piy; And as I'tread the flow'ry lawn, I'll greet the newborn day.
