

JENNY D' CLOE.
DEAR Chlor, you were in the right, Damon's address that to fight,
And then the hands of love;
For we think, 'tis greater bliss, All mere address to confounds,
And gaily, gaily love.

'Tis farre much happier ne'er to wed, When you do, all pleasure find;
And formow soon o'retakes you;
Your hulb'rd oft will scold and fret,
And always keep you in a pe' Then every good forsakes you.

CLOWN'S SONG.
DEAR Jenny, tell me if you can,
Why such red yo'ur spleen at me?
In so fev'ren a brain?

I joyn with you, 'tis surely right Cuckoo's addressees that to flight, And trew them with disdain,

But, can I think, it gaires blifs All men's addressees to diffis, And live a dull old maid, Slow groping through life's dreary road, Opprest'd with care, a heavy load, Colloquies to the dead:

SHALL I WITH YOUR ADVICE COMPLY,
And let my gaves minutes fly, Unprofitable of a mate; While nymphs and swains around me join,
And parades with each band entwinc, To blest the married state?

WHILE blooming youth and vigorous bish, Ever fit my bright days are yar, May Ieembrace a bride:

Possid of all my heart can crave,
A swain that's generous, jilt and brave, What can I want?

WHEN I SHALL WEAR THIS CHAIN, chris,
Or may be never generas fraim!
We have no yar partner he;

Plaisir'd in life, and over gay With the child hours glide smooth away,

From all contaction free.

From a late PARIS PAPER.

DEATH OF THE BRAVE CARROUSE.

THE DEATH of the brave Carrouse, a naval lieutentant, and commander of the corvette L'E Affrable Nationale, is one of those events which ought to be handed down to posterity. The foul loving scoundrel, taken from the proce' venuus of the shipwreck of this corvette, arrived on the 18th of Thermidor, in the 3d year of the French Republic, and may be added to the numerous examples of generous interpiety in Frenchmen, brutal ferocity in the English. Carrouse finding himself persecuted by an English frigate of the largest size, decided to run ground rather than become a prey to the enemy. The corvette touched the rocks which had been laid down to intercept her. The English frigate, having boarded her, sent a boat to take off the crew, and then burnt her.

And together with our Thanksgiving, earnest Supplications to God are hereby made, for the forgiveness of our sins, and his Mercies; and that by the multiplying influence of his Spirit, our sins and manners may be corrected, and we become a reformed and happy People. —

He did therefore prefer the Administration of the Government of the United States, and of this and the other States in the Union.—That he would still afford his Blessings on our Trade, Agriculture, Fathers & all the Labours of our hands.—That we should stand upon our University, and all Schools of Learning.—That Tyranny and Usurpation may ever where come to an end.—

That the nation who are extending their territory, may still succeed in their efforts; and that the cause of Civil Government as shall be advanced, promote and establish their Social security and Happiness.—And finally, that in the course of my duty and honour replied he, on legere me to remain on board; fare yourselves, I am at your poll.

The boats pick up a part of the crew, and by the constant sounders, and the brave Carrouse, with the few brave companions who were left behind, sunk to the bottom.

Every effort was put in practice to save them; Ensign Rogier tried to secure the captain, but had done says he, to his despair, in my power to preserve him; I held him in consideration by the hair while he was bound fast to one of my legs. Not perceiving his strength failing, he let me go, saying, I will not be the cause of your death. And what were the English doing all this time? they fired upon those unfortunate wretches, and upon the boats which went to pick them up; a number of bullets having fell among the sailors who were swimming.

The frigate dispatched three boats to take possession of the corvette and her crew, who discovered nothing but the wrecks of the vessel and the dead corpse of a few unfortunate men, whom their brave comrades were unable to carry off. The remainder reached home in spite of the English scoundrels.

From a LONDON PAPER.

LITERACY OF THE SUBJECT.

IT is really surprising that people should have so little liberty when there is so much in this kingdom. It is well known that all ranks of people possess liberty which every thinking man must feel safely with did not exist; and that many of our rights are taken away from others of people. Several of our great men have the liberty to run debt with every man who is fool enough to give him credit, the liberty to refuse payment as long as they please, and the liberty to plead privilege to protect their-faced persons from justice.

—But then on the other hand, some trademen have the liberty to charge a high for their goods that if they can pay once in ten years, they will still be gained by the bargain, while others more conscientious, have the liberty to be solved and have their names infamed in the gazette, introduced by a subject.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying peculiarities; whilst their lean co-wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and maintaining their families as well as they can with forty or fifty pounds a year.

Several persons who never saw a sword drawn, or a shot fired; except, perhaps, in a duel, or an encounter, and plausibilities; whilst their lean co-wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

IMAGINATI ALIAS, in defense of the reputation of a friend, or on a quarrel about cards or dice; have the liberty to at least once as military commander in chief against. For which purpose they have had the liberty to employ criminal means to treason, to seize men who had no other crime but poverty, drag them from their families, and feed them to the army or to the national, and to depopulate the fields and the towns for the good of the service.

Ladies of every virtue or rather of no virtue at all take the liberty of crowding all publick places, allowing women of reputations, and putting modesty out of countenance. Of glorying in their injury; and when they grow old themselves and put their trade, and their money to the army or to the nation, and to depopulate the fields and the towns for the education of youth.

Many more instances of liberty might be produced; but those few may suffice to enable us to say, that England is a land of liberty.

BY AUTHORITY.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

By the GOVERNOR.
A PROCLAMATION
FOR A DAY OF Public THANKSGIVING.

WHEREAS it has pleased GOD, the Father of all Mankind, to bless us with a numerous population, and a Publick thanksgiving is due to him for his goodness. —Therefore I do hereby command, that on the 26th day of November, in the year of our Lord, 1795, and in the Year of the Independence of the United States, there shall be a general thanksgiving throughout the Commonwealth, —Calling upon the Ministers of the Gospel, with their respective Congregations, and the whole Body of the People, religiously to observe the said Day by celebrating the Praises of that all glorious Being, of whose Benevolence we have experienced so large a share.

I have theretofore thought fit, with the advice and consent of the Council, to appoint THURS-DAY, the 26th Day of November next to be observed as a Day of PUBLIC THANKSGIVING AND PRAYER TO OUR DIVINE BENEFACCTOR throughout this Commonwealth.—Calling upon the Clergy, Ministers of General St. Clair's deputation, to meet at the said Day, —Linen commemorative of General Wayne's victory over the Indians, written at Greenville.—Linen written at Marietta, at the confluence of the Ohio and Muskingum rivers.—Verification of Snare's tragic translation of several Psalms and Epistles of HORACE —Valedictory address in the Muse.

III.

Sketches, Political and Geographical, extracted from the author's journal during a period of three years service in the army of the United States; including a concise account of the expedition of the "Army of the Constitution" to the insurgents in the State of Pennsylvania, in 1779, and sketches on that event.—A sketch of the organization and character of the Legislature of the United States.—Narrative of the circumstances relative to, and connected with the late treachery of Indians north-west of the Ohio.— Sketch of the origin, progress, and confirmation of the late treaty with Great Britain.—And general observations on the soil, situation, climate, natural productions, remains of antiquity, aboriginal inhabitants, progressive settlement, jurisprudence, and future prospects, of the extensive country westward of the Appalachian Mountains.

He hath presented Epidemic Diseases from observation, and afforded us a general state of Health.

He hath regarded our Fathers and Friends with the eye of the most indulgent Parent, and rewarded the Industry of our Husbandmen with a plentiful Harvest.

Nothing attending sensational obtrusions to our readers on the first, it has generally been professed that our histories suffice.

General observations on the soil, situation, climate, natural productions, remains of antiquity,
aboriginal inhabitants, progressive settlement, jurisprudence, and future prospects, of the extensive country westward of the Appalachian Mountains.

IV.

A Disposition on Military Establishments, estimated and political institutions, illustrated by historical examples.—An Essay on the progress of Patriotic Science in the United States, Gave an account of the present government; and several other original essays, descriptive Sketches and fugitive pieces, on various subjects.

AND together with our Thanksgiving, earnest Supplications to God are hereby made, for the
forgiveness of our sins, and his Mercies; and
that by the multiplying influence of his Spirit,
our sins and manners may be corrected, and
we become a reformed and happy People. —

He did therefore prefer the Adminstration of the Government of the United States, and of this and the other States in the Union.—That he would still afford his Blessings on our Trade, Agriculture, Fathers & all the Labours of our hands.—That
we should stand upon our University, and all Schools
of Learning.—That Tyranny and Usurpation
may ever where come to an end.—

That the nation who are extending their territory, may still succeed in their efforts; and
that the cause of Civil Government as shall be advanced, promote and establish their Social security
and Happiness.—And finally, that in the course
of my duty and honour replied he, on legere me to remain on board; fare yourselves, I am at your poll.

The boats pick up a part of
the crew, and by the constant sounders, and
the brave Carrouse, with the few brave companions who were left behind, sunk to the bottom.

Every effort was put in practice to save them;
Ensign Rogier tried to secure the captain, but
had done says he, to his despair, in my power to preserve him; I held him in consideration by the hair while he was bound fast to one of my legs. Not perceiving his strength failing, he let me go, saying, I will not be the cause of your death. And what were the English doing
all this time? they fired upon those unfortunate
wretches, and upon the boats which went to pick
them up; a number of bullets having fell among
the sailors who were swimming.

The frigate dispatched three boats to take possession of the
corvette and her crew, who discovered nothing but the wrecks of the vessel and the dead corpse of a few unfortunate men, whom their brave comrades
were unable to carry off. The remainder reached
home in spite of the English scoundrels.

From a PARIS PAPER.

LEVI SHEPARD,

HAS just received a large supply of fat and WATER.

G O O D S ,
HARD WARE AND CUTLERY.

THE COTTONWOOD, OIL OF VITRIOL, AND OTHER STUFFS.

PAINTS, COLOURS, &c. &c.
WAX AND SHIPPING FURS.

Found in Whatley on the 1st of October last, A SADDLE AND SADDLE-BAGS.—The owner may have them by leaving property and paying charges.

ELEAZER FRARY.

October 19, 1795.

THERE are still living many citizens who remember Mademoiselle Auguste. She was a finger of an agreeable figure, charming voice and amiable character. Her sentiments as to individual liberty were worthy of a republican.

In returning from a journey to Poland she passed through Berlin, and went to a ball in that city, at which Frederic II. was also present. He was curious to hear her, and sent a chamberlain to sing.
Frederick forgot for a moment that she was a monarch. He sent the chamberlain with this message, "Mademoiselle Auguste, I am the king who demands a song; she is the queen who demands a kiss."

"Monsoon," replied the young French woman, tell the king that he has a thousand ways of making me kiss, but not one of making me sing."

From a LONDON PAPER.

LITERACY OF THE SUBJECT.

IT is really surprising that people should have
so little liberty when there is so much in this kingdom. It is well known that all ranks of people possess liberty which every thinking man must feel
safely with did not exist; and that many of our rights are taken away from others of people. Several of our great men have the liberty to run
debt with every man who is fool enough to give him credit, the liberty to refuse payment as long as they please, and the liberty to plead privilege
to protect their-faced persons from justice.

—But then on the other hand, some trademen
have the liberty to charge a high for their
goods that if they can pay once in ten years,
they will still be gained by the bargain, while
others more conscientious, have the liberty to be solved and have their names infamed in the gazette, introduced by a subject.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.

Many of our clergy have the liberty of enjoying
peculiarities; whilst their lean co-
wates have the liberty of doing all the duty, and
maintaining their families as well as they can with
forty or fifty pounds a year.