23. Archaeological or Historical Significance

The 1831 town map seems to show this as the site of Kingsley's Factory, the pioneer industry of this area. However, other sources indicate that Kingsley's Factory was located farther south on the Manhan Rover, in the middle of the village. The 1860 map shows a carding mill on the site, while the 1873 atlas shows a dam, headrace and sawmill. The 1873 atlas lists G.B. Drury as "Box Manufr and Propr of Saw Mill". His residence was just south of this site on the eastern side of Loudville Rd. In 1895 the atlas shows the site occupied by two structures, identifies as the "old paper mill" of F.H. Davis and Co. The Company is listed in the 1895-96 Directory as being manufacturers of pulp board. It was a short-lived business as it doesn't appear in the 1900 directory. This is the last known use of the site.
