9. Historical significance (include explanation of themes checked above)

A Greek Revival entrance is the most salient architectural feature of this farmhouse on Glendale Road. The body of the structure may be earlier than the doorway detailed with pilasters and sidelights. Two large nineteenth century barns and numerous outbuildings on the property are still in agricultural use. Other older structures on Glendale and Westhampton Road were associated with agricultural uses; a number of new homes and a subdivision are indicative of the recent growth of the area.
