9. Historical significance (include explanation of themes checked above)

This house was built during the early 1890's for Frank Huxley, a carpenter. Mr. Huxley was the son of John Huxley, a carpenter who lived at 13 Arlington St., and the two Huxleys probably built this house.

The house features decorative shingle work on the front and side gables and has a half porch on the facade recessed under a continuation of the front slope of the slate roof.
