9. Historical significance (include explanation of themes checked above)

In 1873 Lucretia Daniels, wife of Charles Daniels, bought lots no. 5 and 6 of W.T. Clement's subdivision plan for Arlington St. This plan had been filed in 1871 and covered a short connectory street between Franklin and Massasoit Sts. This house first appears on the 1884 atlas and is occupied by Mrs. Daniels, who at this time is identified as a widow.

The house is 1½ stories in height with steeply-pitched gable to the street and a 1½ story ell, with steeply-pitched gable, on the southern side. A one-story porch covers the facade and extends along the southern side to the projection. It is composed of double, chamfered posts on short pedestals. A one-story bay window projects from the side ell. In the rear of the property is a 1½ story carriage house with central wall gable and cupola.
