9. Historical significance (include explanation of themes checked above)

This large house was built around the turn-of-the-century on a short, dead-end street off North Main St. in Florence. The house is located at the edge of the Mill River terrace and has a sweeping view of the Florence meadows which extend north and south on both sides of the river.

The house is two stories in height with high hipped roof and two-and-a-half story pedimented projections at the southwest and northeast corners of the house. A one-story porch with hipped roof, square posts and perforated brackets, balustrade and lattice base extends from the front projection across the facade and along the northern side.
