9. Historical significance (include explanation of themes checked above)

This house was built in 1893 for Elizabeth Clark at a cost of $5000. It was located at the beginning of the connector between Henshaw Ave. and Créscent St. Henshaw Ave. had been laid out in the mid 1860's but only extended northerly to the house next south of this one. It wasn't until the late 1880's that Henshaw Ave, was continued northwards. This became Crescent St. and cut along the middle slopes of Round Hill, almost encircling it and winding up back on Elm St. about 1/4 mile west of Henshaw's junction with Elm St.

The house is two stories in height with hipped roof and two 2 and 1/2 story pedimented projections, one at the southern corner of the facade and the other at the eastern corner of the north side.
