9. Historical significance (include explanation of themes checked above)

This house first appears on the 1895 atlas as the residence of Charles R. Hood, a foreman at the Norwood Engineering Co., which was also located on North Maple St.

The house is two stories tall, and L-shaped, with the main entrance in the crook of the L. The entrance is covered by a one-story porch with flat roof, projecting cornice, turned posts and brackets, and a modern balustrade, while a small wall gable projects above.
